

Mr. Miller, it has been a pleasure being in your English 101 and 103 class. I have grown as a writer and reader tremendously since entering your class. My favorite parts of your class is that you allow us a choice to write about what we want for our essays. This allows us to write freely about something we are actually passionate about. I also love all the articles because not only do we learn about different ways to write, we also learn about history like the Holocaust or witch trials, or even Helter Skelter. Our generation should already know about those events because they are important parts of our history, your class makes sure if we did not know, we do now. I am applying to schools right now and I would not be if it weren't for you and this class. I am the first of my family to go to college, so this is huge for me. I will always love your passion for the Holocaust and I promise when I have kids one day I will inform them of the terrible event to ensure that the past never repeats itself. Thank you for believing in me and always being a positive role model in my life. I will miss being in your class so much, you are one of my favorite teachers! Take care and have a very Merry Christmas.
